All members were present.

RTI Plan:

See copy of RTI Plan attached.

Council reviewed the RTI Plan for MR-C.

After reviewing the plan, Marlene Hamilton made the motion to approve the RTI Plan. Jamie Mullins-Smith seconded the motion with all members voting in favor.

Budget:

Mr. Noble reported that there had been no changes in the budget at this time.

Master Schedule:

Mr. Noble discussed that with approval of the RTI Plan, the master schedule would need to be updated to include instructional time each day to incorporate the interventions in math and reading. Grades 3-6 would be giving the instruction at the same time each day, alternating between reading and math (MWF1-Math and TTHF2-Reading).

He further explained that the students would be grouped according to bands from MAP scores.

Jamie Mullins-Smith made the motion to approve updating the master schedule to include RTI times each day. Tammy Keene seconded the motion, with all members voting in favor.

Novice Reduction:

Mr. Noble informed the council that approximately ½ of students scored Novice in both reading and math. He stated that programs/resources had been purchased to help reduce the novice scores. He also stated that PD would be available to introduce the staff to some of the new programs to ensure that everyone was working with the programs correctly.

Programs purchased include, Secret Stories (Reading), IXL (Math and Reading), MobyMax (Math), Lexia (Reading), Story Works (Reading), Science Studies Weekly (Science and Reading), Project Read (Reading), and Study Island (Math and Reading).

K-PREP scores:

Approximately 1/2 of students scored Novice in both reading and math. Mr. Noble discussed ways for the school to help move those students up. The council discussed the programs that are now available to assist, as well as, making the students more responsible for their own learning (student ownership). Each classroom has data boards that display anonymously the scores on the MAP test of each student; this is updated after every cycle. The teachers are also assisting the students with goal setting and discussing this with parents. Parents are invited to become more involved in their child's learning. The council feels that with everyone working together, scores will improve.

PETLL Visit:

Mr. Noble discussed the recent PETLL visit. He stated that all feedback was positive. Only a few areas of growth was mentioned, one being that teachers need to display more student work in the classroom.
